"A FRIENDLY ZONE TO BUILD YOUR HOME"

SAID IN CYPRESS

By Newsy

We wanted to be real profound about something this week—in fact, we've been saving up for it the past few weeks. (You may have noticed.) There are so many important matters coming up all the time that seem to need an editorial opinion, which are called to our attention. Some of these are of a civic nature, such as the flooded areas around where the water doesn't drain off, and why the county health department recommended that a sub-divider be denied a permit to build in a location close to Cypress when many areas along the way have what are known as "perched water tables."

But the closest we got to profundity was a bout with the virus going around which lays one very, very low. And we were not alone in our misery, because "Dad" Kroesen and Dale suffered on the same day in the same way, and we know many of our friends who are not at their accustomed places these days. So, the best place to go to find out what's happening on all these "profound" subjects is your chamber of commerce meetings. Hope you were there.

Cities Ask Flood Control Investigation

Complaint from Orange county cities that they are not getting flood protection from the county flood control department commensurate with taxes they pay to the district has brought demand from the Orange County League of Cities for a grand jury investigation.

The demand came late last week at a League meeting in Santa Ana, where Mayor Thomas Eadington of Fullerton raised the question and said that during the past four years Fullerton had paid $175,000 in flood control taxes, and only $14,000 worth of work was done for the city's protection.

Eight other cities made similar complaint, and a motion for the grand jury investigation by Mayor Vernon Langenbeck of Huntington Beach was unanimously carried.

The League emphasized that it does not charge malfeasance in flood control affairs, nor does it question the tax levy. It's complaint relates to the "high cost of overhead and maintenance of flood control works."

Despite a surplus of $1,000,000 or more, the flood control department has initiated very few new projects, it was claimed.

Dog Show Set For Sunday At Anaheim

Sunday "the" dogs in dogdom will be shown by their proud owners at the dog show at La Palma park in Anaheim. Sponsored by the Santa Ana Valley Kennel club, it is reported that around 1250 entries have been received, which will make this one of the top-ranking shows in the nation.

Cypress merchants have generously donated several of the valued trophies for the show, which will be on display.

Car Accident Hurts H. Manns

Harry Manns was injured Wednesday afternoon in an auto accident at Wardlow and Clark streets in Long Beach. He suffered broken ribs, cuts and bruises and was taken to a Torrance hospital. His nephew, Lonnie Henning of Lakewood, was driving when their car was sideswiped. The machine was badly damaged.

Boy Scouts In Drive For Old Metal

Boy Scouts of Cypress are trying to get enough equipment to take care of their camping needs this summer. Every citizen can help.

Latest project of the troop, under the leadership of Warren Ter Beest, is to collect scrap metal. If a boy scout neighbor knocks at your door and asks for scrap metal, you will be doing a good deed by cooperating.

A. E. "Pat" Arnold has given permission to use his garage at the rear of his home, 5542 Bishop st., for collection and storage. Camiel Pattyn, local trash and garbage hauler, has promised to assist. Any boy scout will be glad to see to it that any scrap you don't want will be taken care of. Or, drop it off at the rear of 5542 Bishop st.

Coming at this time, the idea should be popular as "clean-up" week is coming soon. And it's patriotic to save scrap, besides being good business to encourage the boy scouts.

Hear Nolan On TV Show Sunday Eve

Friends here who are interested in the progress Nolan Blackman is making in his television career will be happy to know that Nolan won from three contestants on Leo Carillo's telequest program April 6. He is eligible to be back on the same program next Sunday, April 20.

Nolan was presented with a wrist watch, a men's toiletry set and other prizes.

A vote for Nolan next week may help him to win, in which case he will go to the final contest. Send your "vote for Nolan" to KLAC. The show will be televised at six o'clock Sunday evening over Channel 13. It is an hour-long show.

IS HOSPITALIZED FOLLOWING AUTO CRASH IN L. B.

Mrs. John Jordan, 9551 Juanita ave., is in Seaside hospital following an automobile accident in Long Beach last Wednesday. Neither her husband, who was driving the car, nor the other motorist were injured, but the Jordan's car was practically demolished.

The crash occurred when the car in front of them suddenly made a turn into an alley off Carson with no signal of the driver's intention. It was necessary to remove a knee cap which was badly fractured, and Mrs. Jordan may be in a cast for about six weeks. She will be in the hospital another week.

Jordan's son, "Bob", and his family, live at 5362 Lincoln ave., in Cypress.

FATHER IN ACCIDENT

Miss Alice Herrick, school nurse, has been absent from her duties for the past three weeks. Her father was involved in a serious accident which necessitated her being with him. She is expected back about the 21st.

NOTHING SURPRISES ED TAYLOR, USED CLOTHING DEALER

Ed Taylor, local secondhand store dealer, was confronted by a very excited customer, Mrs. Evelyn Powers of Anaheim, last Monday morning. She was looking for a dress she had given to the assistance league. Missing a "keepsake" ring, she told the Taylors that she realized it must still be pinned to the zipper of the dress.

Being busy sorting goods for a shipment to Mexico, Taylor asked Mrs. Powers to come back later in the day, and he would try to find the dress, and the "keepsake."

Mrs. Powers was greatly relieved to recover the ring, which had considerable monetary value as well as sentimental value, when she did return later that day.

Post, Auxiliary To Install At Joint Affair

Officers in the C. R .Rogers Memorial VFW Post No. 9847 and its auxiliary will be installed in a joint installation to take place Thursday evening at the schoolhouse. The Orange County council team will have charge for the men. Mrs. Edna Clayton and the Santa Ana installing team will officiate for the auxiliary.

Many visitors throughout the county and from over the district are expected to be present.

Following the ceremonies a social hour will be held. Committee in charge of refreshments for the affair are Mmes. Tom Demiris, Ted Priddy, Malvern Blake, Henry Muesse, J. E. Smith and D. R. Canfield.

Co. Planners Deny Project

Objections on two counts to the proposal of C. L. Zastrow of Bellflower to subdivide a 20-acre tract at the southeast corner of Lincoln ave. and Hansen road, brought denial of his application last Friday by the Orange county planning commission.

The county health department objected because, after six test borings on the tract, it found the soil unsuited to septic tanks and a sanitation problem would be created by the subdivision, it said. The ground water level there is no more than five feet from the surface, it was stated.

The county road department added its objections. Drainage of surface water at the location likewise would be a problem, the department officials said.

Zastrow had planned to create 90 lots for single-family dwellings on the tract.

Cypress had a $1000 permit for a residence addition, issued to Harry Smits, 4752 E. Crescent ave., and $762 in miscellaneous permits.

PAINT EXTERIOR FAITH TABERNACLE

Members and friends of the Faith Tabernacle, Assembly of God church, engaged in considerable effort just before Easter to improve the exterior of their building on Lincoln avenue. A new coat of white paint with green window trim and a new bulletin board in black and white are improvements. The inside of the church was also painted and a new coat of paint put on the windows.

An old-fashioned revival is in progress at the church. Meetings are held nightly at 7:30 o'clock. The Rev. C. G. Eigenhuis is the local pastor.

Box Supper May Third

You can have lots of fun, the Cypress Women's Community club can earn lots of money, and the Cypress volunteer fire department can buy a rescue wagon a lot quicker. How? Ladies fix a supper for the box social—and men, come and buy!

Planned by a committe from the club, the event Saturday night, May 3, is being designed to follow along the lines of an old-fashioned box supper as nearly as the members can remember back to those popular functions of years gone by. There will be games and entertainment during the fore part of the evening. Bob Faulkner, auctioneer, will take over for the sale of the lunches, and there will be a prize for the prettiest box.

Everyone in the community is urged to be present and participate. The affair will take place in the schoolhouse, Saturday evening, May 3.

Three Get Medals While In Korea

Three Cypress men were recently awarded the Combat Infantryman badge, while with the 40th Infantry division in Korea.

The badge shows a miniature Revolutionary War flintlock rifle mounted against a blue rectangle. A silver wreath extends across the bottom and up the sides of the badge.

They are M/Sgt. William J. Coburn, 8612 La Salle, Sgt. James R. Coburn, Jr., 8851 Walker, and Pfc. Harry B. Reynolds, 5366 Nelson. All are members of the 224th Infantry regiment.

M/Sgt. William J. Coburn's family was happy to welcome him home this week. His ship docked in Seattle on Sunday.

Kiwanians See Navajo Slides

Colored slides showing the life of the Navajo Indians on their reservation were shown to the Cypress Kiwanis club Monday night at Loyd's Drive-in.

Dr. Clinton C. Emerson, dentist in the Newport Harbor club, who were guests of Cypress, presented the show. He and others in the Newport Kiwanis have taken an interest in the destitute condition of the Navajos, and go to them at intervals to give them free dental and medical treatment. The club also furnishes them cast-off clothes of the members.

Dr. Emerson was presented by Newport's president, Jim Van Dyke.

Guests from other towns were Larry Myler from Artesia, and John Kiersey, of Garden Grove.

IT'S A HEALTHY SIGN

It has often been said that the success of the democratic system, the Republic, depends upon the individual. Whether government is good or bad, whether it is honest or grafting, depends on the exercise of the right to vote by the governed.

No one is to blame if the moral level of government officialdom reaches a regrettable low. No one can point an accusing finger at poor federal, state of county management without sharing the responsibility for that failure.

One of the most encouraging indications that our Republic, and all its governmental counterparts on lower levels, will show improvement in coming years is the registration of voters this spring. It is expected that more than 5½ million will register to vote in California this year.

COUNTY COMMENT

By GEORGE E. HART

The column this week will be dedicated to secret societies.

It will be a diatribe against that particular secret society which might be called The Society To Suppress Track Meet Results. It's called a lot of other things by track meet spectators, but we are trying to be polite here.

Spectators at track meets are, so far as we have noticed, the only group of sports fans that are supposed to be mind readers, or are required to be phychic, or have second or third sight. If they know what is going on down there on the track and field, they must be all of these.

Track meets are an exciting spectacle. They have a great potential for spectator appeal. Properly promoted and managed, they could fill the stands.

But do they? Take, for example, the recent Orange-Anaheim high school track meet in Anaheim. It had one special attraction that, alone, could fill the stands. The duel between Carter of Orange and Kirchman of Anaheim, two of the finest prep runners in the Southland, was enough to jam pack the place, even though they were not to meet in their particular event, the quarter mile.

But, even though the meet was free to the public, there wasn't a corporal's guard on hand. And maybe because they were getting in free, the fans who were there had no right to beef about the way the meet was handled. So let us not call these remarks a beef. Let's call them an expression of regret that the public cannot get more satisfaction out of a sport with such possibilities.

Carter and Kirchman swept down to the tape together in the hundred. It was a beautiful race. Orange cohorts thought they saw several inches of Carter's chest ahead of Kirchman, but the judges called it a tie.

The spectators never knew what they called it—until they read the newspapers the next day. In the other track events the spectators could tell, by the uniform, which school won the various races because none were as close as the hundred. But unless personally acquainted with the winner, the spectators could only guess at his identity, and there was never the faintest idea of the time made.

Nor was there ever an official hint as to which team was ahead in the meet, although it was hardly close enough to leave much doubt. Still, the fans might have liked to know the score.

In the midst of the meet, a spectator at the top of the grandstand happened to look down behind the stand and, what do you think? They were hiding the broad jump and pole vault there.

A jumper would jump, two youths would measure from his tracks to the take-off, and complete silence would follow. The jumpers themselves did know the distance they leaped, because occasionally a fan in the grandstand, after looking guiltily around him to be sure no one was watching him steal this secret, would hiss from behind his hand: "Hey, Skinny, what did you make that time?" The secret then would be communicated to him by the jumper.

Trying to find out who was doing what height in the pole vault also made an interesting game.

Now, as one prominent business man suggested, if they would just mark off foot lines beside the broad jump pit, say up to 25 feet, each foot line plainly labeled. If they would operate a big score board facing the stands, giving the results of each race and the winning time, together with the current point totals of each team. Or at least leave have somebody announce the results with a megaphone.

If they will do that, we promise to shut up. Unless we can think of something else.

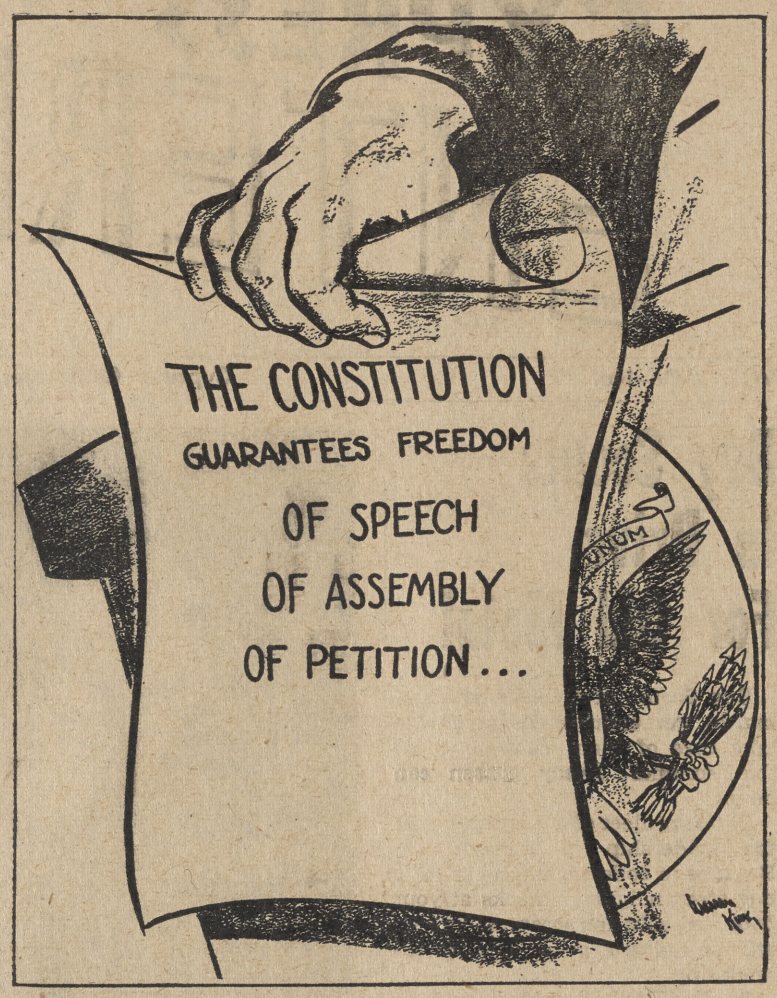
Watch Lynx Practice Games – Free

Getting the Lynx soft ballers in condition for a rugged season of league play offers an opportunity for practice games. According to manager "Shorty" Hill, it is also a break for local fans who get an opportunity to see the girls in preseason action—free.

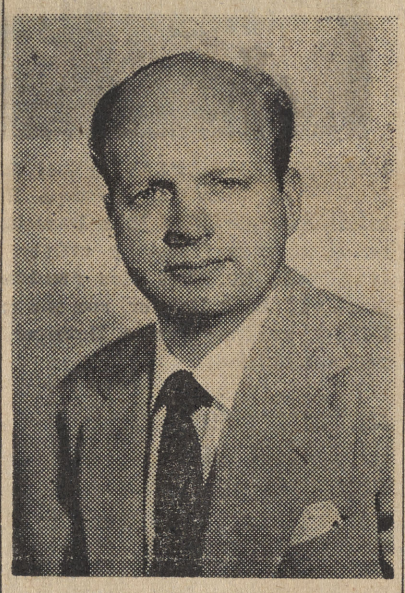
The girls will play a game with the Kittens at the park Friday evening under the lights and will host the Ebonettes here on Sunday afternoon at 2:00 p.m. There will be no admission charge for either game.

Clayton Mallory, manager of the Kittens revealed this week that arrangements have been made for his team to play the curtain raiser on May 24, the night of Hometown Day when the Lynx tangle with Fresno.

UPHOLDING OUR RIGHTS



Faulkner To Help Preserve "Ideal" County



By Edward Faulkner

Orange County is one of the fastest growing areas in the fastest growing state, and this fact is responsible for many problems of our county government.

One thing should be kept in mind. In welcoming the thousands of new residents, we should never forget that the "old timers" built this county so well that now other people want to live here.

What they have built must be preserved and carried forward. That is one of the reasons why I seek the office of Supervisor from the Third District. I would like to be in position, as a member of the Board, to help solve the new problems growth has brought.

I have been trained for it, and have the youth and drive, as well as the business maturity, to do the job that is now being neglected. I am a substantial property owner and taxpayer, with a real interest in efficient and economical government.

Our growth problems can cause serious harm and bring unwelcome change unless rightly handled. For example, industry is sweeping in and around us. We must keep it balanced, and meet a housing problem in such a manner that Orange County will remain the Orange County we know.

I wish to assure old timers that I have no intention of changing Orange County. On the contrary, I want to prevent harmful change. If we can keep the fine things we already have here, I will consider that progress and success.

Many thanks for your phone calls and letters.

Ice Capades Feature Cinderella

One of the greatest stories ever brought to the screen, Walt Disney's "Cinderella", has been transformed to the ice and is one of eight big productions in the Ice Capades of 1952, which opens for a limited run at the Pan-Pacific, May 8.

The story of Cinderella is of ancient origin. Historians say it probably originated in the Orient. Story tellers, the world over, know it as the Number One of the seven basic plots.

In simple form, it's the tale of a young girl, who, one night is transformed by her Fairy Godmother, from the ugly drudge of her cruel step-sisters, into a radiant princess. She goes in state to a great ball, and there a prince falls in love with her, loses her, but eventually marries her, when he finds her with the aid of the lost glass slipper that will fit only Cinderella's foot.

Donna Atwood, whom Disney acclaims as the "perfect" Cinderella, plays the title role, while Bobby Specht is the handsome prince.

Critics all over the nation acclaim the 1952 Ice Capades as the greatest in the twelve years existence of the John H. Harris productions.

Officials of the Pan-Pacific revealed that mail orders are now being accepted. It's simple to order by mail. Just write a letter to the Pan-Pacific, 7600 Beverly Blvd,. Los Angeles 36. Tell them the number and price of seats and the performance you wish to attend. Enclose check or money order and self-addressed stamped envelope.

The Altar Society sponsoring the party assure card lovers an especially good time.

ATONEMENT, CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SUBJECT

The Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "Doctrine of Atonement" in all Christian Science churches points out that regeneration and redemption are gained by following the Christ in daily life. Jesus' words from Mark (10:45) will be the Golden Text: "The Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for man."

A Bible selection from Micah (6:6,8) reads, "Wherewith shall I come before the Lord, and bow myself before the high God? . . He hath shrewed thee, O man, what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?"

Mary Baker Eddy says in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures": "If the disciple is advancing spiritually, he is striving to enter in. He constantly turns away from material sense, and looks towards the imperishable things of Spirit" (p. 21).

Nazarenes Dedicate New Organ

Long-time ambition of members of the Cypress Church of the Nazarene was climaxed at the morning worship service Easter Sunday morning with the dedication of a Hammond organ. The instrument was installed on Saturday.

Played by Mrs. William D. Howard, appropriate music was heard on the organ as the pastor, the Rev. Mr. Howard, and the audience united in a dedicatory ritual.

A plaque has been prepared bearing the names of those to whose loving memories the gift of the organ was inspired. They are Cornelia Bakker, R. H. Booher, Robin Marie Campbell, Howard James Chapman, Susan A. Moyle, John Earl McSpadden, Cornelius R. Rogers, Clifford E. Simpson and other loved ones.

The eleven o'clock service followed a sunrise service after which a traditional Easter breakfast was served, and a children's program at Sunday school.

Van Dalsem–Donothan Rites Performed In Home Ceremony

In a quiet ceremony performed in a lovely setting in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vance Van Dalsem of 8311 Gay street, Miss Sherry Van Dalsem was wed to Gloyd Donothan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oren Donothan of Hawaiian Gardens Friday evening. The Rev. Adam Rager, pastor of the Brethren Church of Hawaiian Gardens, officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a pale pink nylon dress with which she wore white lace mitts with a pink bow at the wrist. Her fingertip veil was held in place with a Juliet cap and she carried an arrangement of pink roses and white carnations tied with a shower of narrow white satin ribbon .

Miss Betty Van Dalsem was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a yellow dotted Swiss dress accented by a corsage of lavender sweet peas and white carnations. Gerald Donothan was his brother's groomsman.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Van Dalsem was dressed in a rose colored lace dress while Mrs. Donothan chose a flowered crepe. Both had pink carnation corsages.

An informal reception was held following the ceremony. The newly married pair, complying with tradition, cut and shared the first slice of the three tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Mrs. Harry Morehead attended to hostess duties.

The new Mrs. Donothan is a student in the junior class at Anaheim high school and her husband is a graduate of Excelsior high school at Norwalk. He is employed in construction work. They are makin their home at Cypress Cottages.

G. T. Alleman's mother, Mrs. Florence Gallagher of Buena Park who is employed at Knott's, suffered a heart attack. She is hospitalized at Cottage hospital in Fullerton, where she will be for another week, at least.

GALLAGHERS MOVE HERE FROM NORWALK

Mr. and Mrs. William Gallagher have sold their home in Norwalk and are moving to Cypress this weekend. They and their three sons, Michael, Danny and Wayne, will occupy the home on Lincoln avenue next to the Cypress garage. Mrs. Gallagher is owner of "The Top" west of town.

Moving operations were delayed somewhat due to an unusual experience Mrs. Gallagher has suffered. She has just recovered from a siege of the mumps. None of the three little boys has succumbed as yet.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sartwell, Prof. and Mrs. D. E. Davis and sons, Darrol and Robert, drove to Indio through the desert on Thursday. The Davis's returned to their home in Richmond on Friday.

TRAINING CAN SAVE MANY LIVES IF ENEMY BOMBS FALL

(This is the sixth of a series of articles on civil defense, based on the booklet "This Is Civil Defense" prepared by the Federal Civil Defense Administration. It may be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., for ten cents.)

By MILLARD CALDWELL
Federal Civil Defense Administrator

Civil Defense does many things before an attack. The most important is preparedness. It gives you information on how to safeguard your home, how to fight fires, and what steps to take against atomic, biological, and chemical warfare. It arranges for shelters and operates the warning system which notifies you when to use them. It gets medical supplies and special equipment ready, trains technical services needed to restore a stricken area, and organizes mutual aid and mobile support.

There are two steps which everyone can take to get into civil defense. The first and most basic is to inform yourself what you and your family as individuals can do to protect yourselves against enemy attack. You can learn how to protect your home from fire, how to handle injuries among your family until trained first aid help can be obtained, how to minimize the dangers of attacks by poison gas and biological warfare. You can do this by reading a series of booklets available from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington 25, D. C. They are:

"Survival Under Atomic Attack"
"What You Should Know About Biological Warfare"
"This Is Civil Defense"
"Emergency Action to Save Lives"
"Firefighting For Householders"

But this is just the beginning. The second step, and it can be taken at the same time you are studying the booklets, is to join your local civil defense organization. There you will get professional training in meeting the dangers of an enemy attack and become part of the team defending your community.

Organize Mutual Aid

One of the most important functions of civil defense before an attack is the organizing of mutual aid and mobile support. The first is help from the neighbors. No matter how well prepared a city might be, after an attack it could not take care of itself. It would have to look to neighboring suburbs, cities and states for help. And that help must be just as well organized and trained as the civil defense organization in the city which has been knocked out. That is the meaning of mutual aid.

Mutual aid pacts to help each other in case of disaster or enemy attack have been drawn up by many cities. In operation it works like this: If your city were hit by an atomic bomb, nearby towns would send fire, police, and rescue crews to help out, or your city would do the same for other communities, for mutual aid works both ways. The same operation would take place between States, since many of them have also drawn up mutual aid pacts.

Mobile support is organized to supply more help, but on a Statewide or inter-state scale. It is made up of teams which can move rapidly. These teams would be loaded into cars, trucks, trains or planes and rushed to the scene of disaster. Such a stricken area might be in another part of the State, instead of next door, or in another State altogether.

Mobile support groups will be manned by people on farms or in small cities and towns outside of target areas. They will assemble outside of such areas and function just like the civil defense organizations in the larger cities.

Help From Neighbors

Some States do not call their mutual aid or mobile support systems by the same names and not all of them are organized exactly alike. But the important thing is, all States have a "help from and for the neighbors" operations plan.

It is your duty, no matter where you are, to serve in some civil defense organization. You may be called upon to take your part in any one of these civil defense operations. Be ready. Know what to do when that time comes.

(The next article will discuss your part in civil defense.)

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn A. Hubbard attended the Sportsmen's show in Los Angeles last Friday.

Richard Johnson left this week for Fort Ord. He joined the army and after his basic training will go to officers' training school.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Richmond drove to Victorville and Barstow Sunday. They were thrilled by the beauty of the spring flowers seen along the way.

The greater the obstacle, the more
Glory in overcoming it.

Glen McCloud Says

We hear a lot these days about the working man versus big business and the troubles that arise through a lack of understanding between the two elements.

Labor and management are inseparable partners. Without the working man, there can be no management and without management, there certainly would be no jobs for the working man.

To keep this country great, there must be "give and take" between both sides. A man has a right to a fair wage and to support his family as he believes proper. At the same time, industry which is in itself, a group of many persons, must be able to operate on a fair profit in order that there will be work available.

Constant discord between management and labor in this country is exactly what persons behind the Iron Curtain want to see. We are a great and strong country and to remain so, we must have unity.

Friends Honor Sam Millers on Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Miller, 5352 Lincoln ave., were married fifty-eight years ago in Indiana. They had expected to spend Monday, April 14, the anniversary date of their wedding, in a quiet manner as usual. In fact, they began the day by doing their washing, as is their custom.

But friends and neighbors had other plans for them. Before the washing was hardly finished, callers began dropping in. They brought little gifts and lovely bouquets of flowers. Through the mail came a shower of greeting cards, with appropriate sentiments.

By evening the Millers counted the day one of the most pleasant in their married career. Among the visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ritter, who now live in Iong Beach. The Millers moved to Cypress 32 years ago and have a host of friends, who join in wishing them well.

Reunion, Birthday Fete at Davis Home

Mrs. Earl Sartwell was guest of honor at a combined birthday party and family reunion given in her honor in the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Davis, 4751 Crescent ave., April 9.

Mrs. Davis used the colors pink and white, centering the table with a beautiful white cake with pink icing, flanked by white candles. Lovely gifts were received by the honoree, some in keeping with the Easter season.

Guests entertained with vocal and instrumental music. Mrs. Davis gave three humorous readings which were enjoyed by other members of the family.

Present were Prof. and Mrs. D. E. Davis and sons Darrol and Robert of Richmond; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Davis Jr., of Los Angeles; Miss Eva Dunstan, Earl Sartwell, the honoree's husband, Harry Manns, and Henry Davis, Sr., in addition to Mrs. Sartwell and Mrs. Davis. Only absent member of the family was Bill Davis, who is currently stationed at Key West, Florida.

ATTEND ANNUAL DINNER

Mrs. Lethia Mylius, Thomas Lorenzini and Miss Elizabeth Dickerson attended the annual dinner held at A.U.H.S. for the purpose of assembling material for eighth grade graduation, Tuesday, April 15.

TO SCHOOL MEET

Miss Elizabeth Dickerson, superintendent, attended the afternoon and evening sessions of the Orange County Joint Administrator's meeting at A.U.H.S. on Wednesday, April 16.

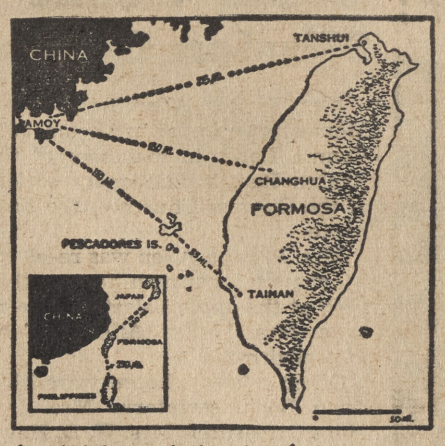
Knowledge is Power



1. CAN CHIANG KAI-SHEK INVADE CHINA?

2. WHY DID JOE LOUIS STAY IN THE RING?

3. WHAT FIRM PAID A RETIRED EMPLOYEE $208,000?

(1.) "Certainly not," writes James A. Michener in "The Voice of Asia," his new book. Chiang has about 250,000 effective troops, but he has no ships to take them over the 110 miles of ocean which separate Formosa from China. Michener says we should use our ships, supplies and officers to put Chiang's men ashore in China when global war comes, but not now.

(2.) The Bomber kept on fighting even though he knew he had passed his prime because he wanted to raise the money to pay his back taxes. Whoever had helped Joe with his income tax had done a poor job, according to Raymond Moley of "Newsweek." Joe had managed his money badly, but he continued fighting despite risks of permanent physical injury because he is an honest man.

(3.) Sears Roebuck has a profit-sharing fund through which 104,-100 employees now own more than 23 per cent of Sears' capital stock. Employees contribute five per cent of their wages, says John Coogan in "America" magazine, and the company contributes from five to nine per cent of its net profit. Thus one employee invested $7,900 during his service with Sears and retired with $208,-000. Several others received more than $100,000.

Attorneys Ask New Trial For McCracken

Attorneys for Henry Ford McCracken, sentenced to death for the kidnap-killing of Patricia Jean Hull, 10, in May, 1951, have asked the State Supreme Court to grant him a new trial because "inflammatory newspaper articles and the state of mind of citizens in Orange County made a fair Superior Court trial impossible." They also stated that trial Judge Robert Gardner showed a lack of fairness," citing the comtempt charge which Gardner levied against them but which the Appellate Court later overruled.

James Monroe and George Chula, McCracken's attorneys, also maintained that he should have been allowed to testify under the influence of truth serum and that the sexual psychopathic angles of the case were not allowed full airing.

Robert Kneeland, assistant district attorney of Orange County, contends that the record shows "commendable fairness on the part of Judge Gardner." He also states that the citation for contempt came during McCracken's sanity trial, which followed the conviction for murder. He continued that truth serums are not completely reliable and that there is no legal precedent for their use.

The Supreme Court took the case under submission. It will probably be a matter of weeks before a decision is reached.

There is only one endeavor in which you can start at the top—and that's digging a hole.

Orangethorpe Residents Ask Flood Control

Twenty-three residents of Orangethorpe avenue, on the south side between Western and Hansen, avenues filed a petition with the board of supervisors Tuesday. They complained of flooding conditions.

The petition was referred to the county road department and Supervisor Ralph McFadden said that he and Road Commissioner Harold Sprenger would look over the situation.

The signers were headed by R. J. Daugherty, 7342 Orangethorpe ave. The petition said that water is being ditched into their properties from Western avenue, creating an unsanitary condition. The condition has existed for a number of years but is increasing rapidly not due to the unusual amount of rain but due to filling in of farmland on the north side of Orangethorpe and installing pipe lines that are inadequate to carry the water. The petition says, "We believe action should be contemplated to drain the water down from Western avenue to Coyote creek half a mile away and this should be done before next winter to avoid further flooding and unpleasantness."

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Essex on Sunday were her cousins, the Misses Jeannette and Claudia Brogdon of Santa Paula, who spent the Easter week with their other cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rath, in Lakewood. Joining them for breakfast were Earl's nephew and family, the Willard Essex's and his brother, Ernest.

AUHS Busy Feting Local Eighth Grads

Anaheim Union high school officials are keeping a busy schedule these days planning events for local eighth grade students which will give them an idea of what to expect next year when they become freshmen.

On Thursday a group of 17 cadets visited at one o'clock. The students assembled on the lawn back of the school where a very impressive drill was held. A talk was given about the cadet corps for freshmen boys.

All the eighth grade boys will be taken by bus to the high school for a track meet today (Friday). Starting at one o'clock, the event will be followed by swimming.

On Thursday, April 24, the bus from Anaheim high school will pick up students in the eighth grade who will register for their freshman year next year. The bus is expected at 8:30 o'clock.
